Intermediate Hockey League Starts December

Coleman Grands will be displaying their hockey talents this winter in the new A.B.C. League playing a total of fourteen games, seven away and seven at home. Interest in the league among players and hockey fans is increasing and present indications point to plenty of hockey action this winter.

Final plans for the league were straightened out at a meeting in Fernie on Sunday and officers appointed. The Central executive will govern the league under the presidency of L. DeArmond, of Cranbrook and vice-pres. J. McDougall, Blairmore. Secretary and treasurer of the league will be appointed by the president. Each town will have one representative on the central executive.

Expected to start in December, the league will operate on a schedule drawn up by Ray Spillers and Teddy Kryczka of Coleman and J. McDougall, Blairmore. This draw will be made to accommodate team wishes and not to conflict with games by the Coalers, Kimberley Dynamiters and other teams. Coleman, Fernie and Michel will form the eastern division of the league. In the sections each team will play 2 home and 2 away games. In intersection each team will make one tour of the circuit playing 3 games at home and 3 away.

The top two teams of each division will play off to determine district champs, the winners of the separate divisions meeting for the champion ship.

Each team will take a referee with them if possible and the visiting referee will be chief at the game.

Attending from Coleman were E. G. Montalbetti, Teddy Kryczka, W. Gate, C. Freeman and J. McDougall.

Mrs. J. Krywolt Dies In C.N.P. Hospital

Mrs. Anna Krywolt, 63, wife of Joseph Krywolt of Coleman passed away in the local hospital last Friday.

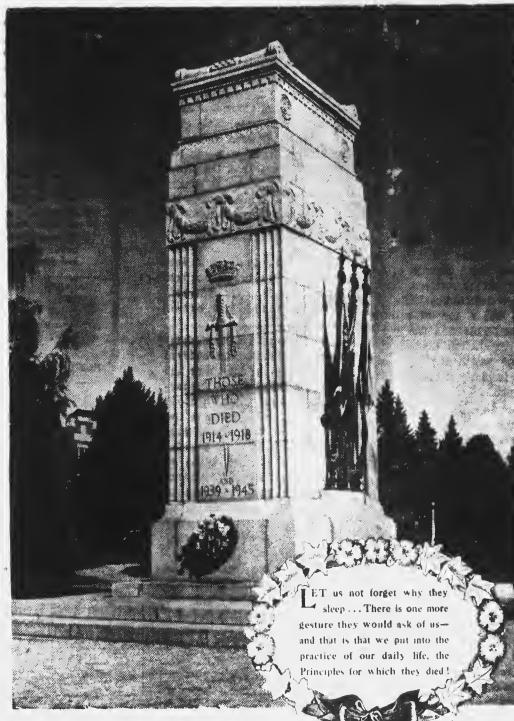

A member of the local Catholic church, she had resided here since 1917, following five years spent at Bankhead near Banff. Born at Willowie, Poland she came to Canada in 1912.

Surviving to mourn her loss are her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Adam Morris, Mrs. D. Filafilo, Mrs. Rudolph Sumanik, two sons Edward and Alois of Coleman, ten grandchildren and one brother Walter in Poland.

Local Couples Honored on
40th Wedding Anniversary

On Sunday Nov. 2 a family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lonsbury the occasion being the 40th anniversary of the double wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Nash and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Easton. Also the 13th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lonsbury. A delicious supper was served by Mrs. W. Lonsbury, after which social evening was held and many friends called to extend best wishes to the happy couple. One of the original wedding guests, Wm. Milley, attended.

IN SERVICE TO THEIR FELLOWMEN

MEMORIAL DAY

The finest tribute we can pay
Unto our hero dead today,
Is not a rose wreath, white and red,

In memory of the blood they shed;

It is to stand beside each mound,
Each couch of consecrated ground,

And pledge ourselves as warriors
true

Unto the work they died to do.

Into God's valleys where they lie
At rest beneath the open sky,
Triumphant, now o'er every foe,
As living tributes let us go.

No wreath of rose or immortelle

Or spoken word or tolling bells

Will do today unless we give

Our pledge that liberty shall live.

Our hearts must be the roses red

We place above our hero dead;

Today beside their graves we must

Renew allegiance to their trust;

Must bare our heads and humbly

say

We hold the flag as dear as they,

And stand, as once they stood to die

To keep the Union Jack on high.

Impressive Ceremony
Will Honor Those Who Served Our Country

I'd like to think when life is done
That I had filled a needed post,
That here and there I'd paid my fare,

With more than idle talk and boast.

Next Tuesday Coleman residents will gather at the Roxy theatre and the cenotaph to pay tribute to those who served Canada in her hours of need at the same time express to those men and women the fact that they have paid their way with action, sacrifice and in cases their health and very life, a debt that can never be repaid by those who remained at home.

Looking back over the years Coleman sons and daughters served in all branches of the armed services. Fought in the skies over France, Germany and other countries, some patrolled our seas protecting the life line of the allies and our very existence. Others tramped through the fields and roads of France, Germany, Sicily and Italy, being wounded, killed or taken prisoner. Travel, companionship and decorations may have been theirs, but loneliness, separation from loved ones, fatigue, failing health and loss of four to five years that should and would have been dedicated to their aims and desires has taken from these men and women something that can never be repaid.

It is a small thing that we do when we attend the memorial service each year, yet it is the least we may do. Turn out next Tuesday and show the veterans that their sacrifices have not been forgotten.

For the convenience of Journal readers the order of service appears below.

The Pipe Band will head the parade under the pipe major Jimmie Moore. Representatives of the Canadian Legion, Legion Auxiliary, under Mrs. Bob

The parade under the Marshal, Comrade Maurice Drew, will assemble at the Legion Club rooms ready to fall in at 9:15 sharp. After the service in the theatre all in the parade and the general public will proceed to the cenotaph.

Wear A Poppy!

On Saturday, Nov. 8 members of the Canadian Legion will be selling poppies on the streets in Coleman. Throughout the year the disabled veterans of Canada have been making these poppies in the Veterans Shop in Toronto and Montreal. On poppy day these veterans depend on the Canadian Legion branches throughout Canada to sell these poppies for them.

In the first Great War 1914-1918, the Canadian casualties were 190,092 including 62,817 dead. In the second Great War we had 104,925 including 41,771 dead. When you wear a poppy you are wearing it in remembrance of the fallen.

In France and Belgium there are two great memorials, one is the Vimy memorial in memory of the Canadians killed in action. The other is the less known, the Menin Gate Memorial at the entrance to Ypres, on which is inscribed the names of 90,000 soldiers of the British Empire who are listed missing and have no known grave.

Our own memorial in Coleman means just as much to us as these great memorials, and when you wear a poppy you are remembering the Coleman boys who did not come back.

THREE MORE ISSUES UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Despite the balmy weather of the past few weeks only three more issues of the Journal will appear before Christmas. A twice monthly publication, the Journal will go to its readers only three more times and limits the amount of publicity that can be given to local advertisers or special Christmas projects.

The warm weather is not conducive to thinking about Xmas at this time so we point out to those wanting to make any announcements the necessity of getting your copy into the Journal soon.

District Shocked At Sudden Passing Of Anthony Pietraszko

Coleman residents were shocked last week at the sudden death of Anthony Pietraszko following an accident in his home.

Anthony passed away in the Crows Nest Municipal hospital having been unconscious for a period totalling 113 hours. Deceased was last seen Monday evening by his brother-in-law and due to the fact that the following day was his regular day off no concern was attached to the fact that he had not been noticed Tuesday. When he failed to turn up for work Wednesday relatives were contacted and a search instituted. He was discovered in an unconscious condition in his basement that night and removed to the local hospital. Although nothing is certain, it is assumed that Tony was planning to retire for the night and had stumbled and fallen into the basement. Coroner Dr. Liesmer stated that no inquest was deemed necessary.

A resident of Blairmore for the past few years, Tony was a Coleman boy, having been born here Dec. 27, 1919 and received his education here. A member of the Catholic faith, he was a member of the Blairmore Elks Lodge and the Canadian Legion.

An active person, he played hockey and baseball with Coleman teams, being a member of the Junior B champs of a few years ago. A former member of the Coleman band he in recent years became a member of Edi's orchestra.

On completion of his high school he gained employment with the McGillivray Mine for three years. In 1942 he joined the Royal Canadian Navy as a first class stoker and during his three years' service saw considerable action on corvette duty.

In 1945 he secured employment at the Greenhill mine in Blairmore sustaining serious injuries to his head in an accident the following year. After long hospitalization he returned to the mine for another year, then joined the staff of the Alberta Brewers Association whom he worked for at the time of his death.

He was predeceased by his parents in Coleman during his youth and by a brother John a well known violinist. John was studying violin in Poland at the outbreak of war, escaping to Italy where he died in 1940.

Surviving are his wife Josephine at Blairmore and a sister Babina, (Mrs. Joe Malanchuk of Coleman).

A Friendly Gesture

SINCE THE EARLY YEARS of the last war the people of Canada and the other Commonwealth countries which were not affected by acute food shortages have sent food parcels to the people of the United Kingdom. Many have been sent also by individuals and organizations in the United States. There have been many expressions of appreciation from those who have benefited from the parcels and there has also been official recognition of the generosity of people in other lands who have helped to make the long period of food rationing which has been the lot of the British people less burdensome.

Official Sign Of Gratitude

One official sign of gratitude for the food parcels sent to Britain during the Second World War is a fund which has been raised there to be used for the benefit of Commonwealth and American students in London. Started in 1950 by Her Majesty the Queen, who was then Princess Elizabeth, the fund now totals more than $2,000,000. Present plans are that it will be used to build an extension to London House, which is a home for Commonwealth students who are living in London. The addition is to include quarters for men and women students and for married couples and for the first time the residence is to be opened to Americans in recognition for the voluntary help which came to Britain from the American people during the war in the form of food parcels.

No Thanks Were Expected

Those who participated in the sending of food parcels did so without thought of receiving thanks but it will give pleasure to many to know that the people of the United Kingdom have joined to contribute to a fund to commemorate their appreciation. A home for students from other parts of the Commonwealth and from the United States will no doubt contribute a great deal in the future to the already firmly-established friendship and understanding among those countries. It will also stand as a fitting monument to this far-flung friendship among people of many nations.

Asked World Calendar Be Considered

TORONTO.—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce suggests the Canadian government to take the initiative in having the world calendar placed on the agenda of the United Nations Assembly as soon as possible.

The world calendar would bring about a number of changes, among them a division of the year which would give all quarter-years the same length.

Funny and Otherwise

Mavis: "I can't bear that man. He always smiles to himself when I say anything silly!"

Joan: "I know, dear. A sort of perpetual grin."

The belated traveller arrived, weary and exhausted, outside the Pig and Whistle. Knocking at the door, he at last aroused an irate man, who yelled out of a window: "Go away! You can't hang us up like this—we're closed clear-off!"

"Say," said the stranger, "where's your whisky?"

Magistrate: "But why did you break into this draper's shop four nights running?"

Defendant: "I got a new dress for my wife and she made me go back and change it three times."

Mother: "What! Have you been fighting again, Johnnie? Good! Little boys don't fight."

Johnnie: "Yes, I know that. I thought he was a good little boy, but after I hit him once, I found he wasn't."

"Pop, what does it mean when it says a man attends a convention as a delegate-at-large?"

"That means his wife wasn't along."

Mrs. Black—"Mrs. Jones seems to be a very sincere, truthful woman."

Mrs. White—"Yes, very. I've never known her to lie about anything but her age, weight, and her husband's income."

A little girl at a party refused a second helping of ice cream with a polite but wistful "No, thank you."

"Do have some more, dear," her host urged.

"Mother told me to say, 'No, thank you,'" the little girl explained naively, "but I don't think she could have known how small the first helping was going to be."

Fortune Teller: "Do you want to know something about your future husband?"

Client: "No, I want to know something about the past of my present husband for future use."

The oldest inhabitant had just celebrated his birthday, and a local reporter was sent to interview him. "And, tell me what would you do if you could have your time over again?"

There was a long silence, while the old man appeared to be deep in thought. "I think I would part my hair in the middle," he replied at last.

New Customs Regulations On Overseas Parcels

OTTAWA.—The Defence Department gave this tip to Canadians who send parcels to servicemen in Britain and Germany: Coffee, liquor, cigarettes and tobacco no longer are free of customs duties.

New customs regulations have cancelled the concession under which two pounds of coffee monthly could be sent duty-free to servicemen in those countries. One reason is that there now is ample coffee available overseas.

More Shorthorns For Canada

Twenty-two Shorthorns valued at $23,000 were purchased by Canadians at the recent sale at Peter, Scotland, of over 240 shorthorns from the famous Crugleton herd. Prices paid by Canadians were: Mr. A. R. Cross, of Alberta, paid $3,234 for a heifer and $2,116 for a yearling heifer; Mr. G. C. Campbell, Mount Uniacke, paid $1,064 for a three-year-old cow and $1,222 for a four-year-old cow; Mr. E. J. Cannert, Rockford Farms, Alberta, paid $1,680 for a three-year-old cow and $840 for a seven-year-old; Mr. J. L. Sleigh paid $812 for a five-year-old and Mr. F. E. B. Gourlay, Moray Head, South Alberta, paid $1,260 for a seven-year-old.

Vessel "Manned" By Women

CHURCHILL, Man.—Many women are just as eager to sail the seas as are men.

The vessel La Coriolana, owned by Burges Masks, which docked recently at this Hudson Bay port, carried ten women cooks and stewards. The ship's owners had asked veterans of the Royal Navy Women's Auxiliary after the last war for applications and were about swamped.

The women said they like the work at sea, and the turnover in personnel is low.

FEWER HORSES

Canada had 1,180,550 farm horses in June, 1952, a reduction of 15 per cent. from June, 1951.

The weight of the human body is composed of approximately six per cent. mineral matter.

ONCE FLOURISHED IN MILLIONS

Danger Of Prairie Dog Becoming Extinct

Five hundred prairie dogs—more wily than the gopher and larger—have a town in southwestern Saskatchewan that doesn't appear on the map although maybe it should. It's the only one of its kind in the British Commonwealth. But for a town so distinctive, its appearance isn't very imposing.

On the surface, it consists of numerous mounds in two small areas separated by a grain field along Frenchman creek, 10 miles southeast of Val Marie.

Underground, it is a maze of tunnels.

That's what two provincial museum workers—Fred Lahman and Terry Walker—found when they went there to capture specimens and take pictures.

But so wily are these large ground squirrels that the men trapped only 12 of them.

They used to be a lot more prairie dogs than there are now. In fact, in the plains to the south of the Saskatchewan dogtown it is estimated more than 400,000,000 lived in an area 1,000,000 miles long by 250 miles wide.

But with the coming of the white tail and the breaking up of the land, they gradually declined in number.

Now, with their numbers decreasing, even the Val Marie colony is in danger of being exterminated and naturalists contend that this relic of natural history should be protected.

Because of the extinction danger, the museum workers went to the site to collect information and specimens while the town and its inhabitants are still there.

The prairie dogs of Val Marie are fat now, ready to move underground for the winter.

They'll appear a few times during the coming months but for the most part these dogs, which never wander further than about 50 feet from their homes at a time, will be even more unseen.—By R. Moon, Regina Leader-Post.

Whitehorse--Some Town!

(By Jack Scott in Ottawa Evening Citizen)

WHITEHORSE, Yukon.—It's my guess that right now this is the most interesting city in Canada. There are so many aspects to it that a man gets dizzy trying to fit the pieces together. The past is here. You can drive five miles south of the town, as I did recently, and stare into the wicked waters of Miles Canyon and the White Horse Rapids and see in your mind's eye the cockeyed, wonderful adventures of '98 shooting the white water.

There's a ghost behind every saved money is like finding a nugget spruce and jack-pine. Two hundred on Main Street.

There is an initial shock to the new arrivals that some of them never quite overcome.

If you should fly in, as I did, you land at the magnificent airport and you drive past the sprawling new homes of upper Whitehorse, all of them for the army or air force.

Then the car turns on the Alaska Highway, it goes steeply down a two-mile hill, the city proper hits the eye and the new arrival invariably greets the town with three words:

"Oh, my God!"

It is a shack town of almost Oriental dimensions. On the surface it is dismal, decayed, fantastic in its thousand styles of individual, shanty-style architecture.

The streets, mercifully white with snow in winter, are dust or mud in summer. A concrete sidewalk is looked upon as a rousing civic development.

The business district looks as it might have looked 25 years ago. Great numbers of dogs live in the doorways of frame buildings.

But along the curb at almost any time of day, tender to tender, stand a hundred or more new automobiles with Yukon plates.

If this first shock is absorbed, the Whitehorse of this trying transition period comes into true focus. Indeed, many who come for that "fast buck" take a long second look and remain even when a bankroll permits an escape. Many who leave in disgust hurry back.

The progress is hard to see amid the ruins of the past, but there's more than $6,000,000 worth of building going on here.

Smack in the middle of town they pour out the concrete for a new federal building that will complete the picture of the territorial capital from Dawson City. Whitehorse will then be a capital in fact as well as in name.

There is the booming business of a town where, as the joke goes, an oldtimer is a fellow who was here three months before you arrived. Some aggressive immigrants are settling themselves up in business in a big way.

It is an exciting place to visit. The hospital is over-proof. The "characters" abound and, if the visitor wants to, he can get them off with a club. The contagious fever of a town on the threshold of a lusty future grips everyone.

And even the grippers somehow seem to remain, although there is one train, two airplanes and several buses that leave on schedule every single day.

IRONING SLEEVES

If you don't own a small sleeve ironing board, you can solve the problem by ironing the sleeves of your blouses and dresses over a rolled towel.

The solar system moves at about 12 miles a second.

On The Side : By E. V. Durling

How could you like to live to be 125 and feel in the pink nearly up to the finish? There are many men in Tibet doing so. Their longevity is attributed to something called "teomchin," which a Spanish physician, who has been checking on it, has renamed "teomchin." It is a valuable type of toadstool found only in China, Japan and Tibet, where it has been successfully employed for curative purposes for centuries. In addition to being helpful in a variety of ailments, teomchin is said to prevent hardening of the arteries, the ailment which is said to cause the death of nine out of ten persons who pass on after 70.

Increasing the Probability

Older mothers, those in their late thirties or early forties, are more likely to bear twins than younger women. The chances are, in fact, two times greater. If the father is older, that increases the possibility of a double feature. If the mother is of Irish birth or descent, the chances are still greater. So, if you are around 38 and your husband is older and of Irish origin, be prepared to receive twins.

Trials of Long-Legged Men

Again I note it said that "long-legged men make poor lovers." That certainly is adding insult to injury. Consider the general disregard for the rights of long-legged men. Take the space between seats in a bus. A lengthy guy is just forced to spread out in such a seat. Yet he is subjected to nasty looks by those who share the seat. If he sits on the outside, his legs are out in the aisle and that makes more trouble for the poor guy. Take bathtubs. They are not adapted to the long-legged fellow? That is only two of the many trials of the lengthy guys. Then to add to that, some unfeeling feminine commentators have to say "long-legged fellows make poor lovers." It ain't right.

Law of Averages No Criterion

A Bostonian informs me he is the father of eight fine sons. He and his wife both wanted to limit their family to four, but have been trying for a daughter. He wants to know if there is any way the chances of having a daughter might be increased. "No matter how ridiculous it is, we will try it," says he. "We are desperate." This situation brings to mind the story of Mustapha of Tunis (A.D. 1717-1773). The sultan was so anxious to have a daughter that for 17 years he promised to advance to the position of empress any of his concubines who bore him a daughter. Nothing came of it. Mustapha was the father of 582 children and every one was a boy.

Wild Women On Increase

There has been a marked increase in the number of feminine criminals in London. Some very wild women are roaming about the British capital. For example, Scotland Yard is trying to capture a female bandit known as "the Black Orchid." This character is described as a tall, beautiful woman always attired in the height of fashion. She never uses a gun in a hold-up. She subdues her victims by hitting them on the head with a hammer she carries in her handbag.

No Damage By Grasshoppers Is Expected In 1953

REGINA.—No grasshopper damage to Saskatchewan grain crops expected next year, the Dominion entomological laboratory in Saskatoon predicted.

The business district looks as it might have looked 25 years ago. Great numbers of dogs live in the doorways of frame buildings.

But along the curb at almost any time of day, tender to tender, stand a hundred or more new automobiles with Yukon plates.

The forecast was based on an adult grasshopper survey conducted during August and September. Infestations this year were at their lowest in 20 years.

Radar Used To Catch Poaching Fishermen

NAKANO, B.C.—Federal fisheries department officials have found a new use for radar... catching poachers who fish illegally under cover of heavy fog.

Fifteen gillnet fishermen, mostly from the mainland and Fraser River sections, appeared in police court charged with illegal operations, allegedly within a prohibited zone. One patrol vessel spotted the fishing vessels on radar.

Some folks praise the Lord with praying; others praise Him with singing.

Saints lives from day to day; others praise Him with their giving.

Every time that comes their way, but I praise the Lord with singing.

Singing joyously and gay.

For I'm nearer heaven singing.

Singing all along the way.

THE COUSIN'S STORY

A History Of The Crows Nest Pass Area

Editor's note: The following are only excerpts from the Story of Crows Nest Pass by James Cousins. This is given in part to acquaint the reader with a few facts that will be elaborated upon later in the series as we reprint Mr. Cousins' main chapters as he wrote them.

The Crows Nest Pass is the most southerly of the three passes through the Canadian Rockies which are used by the railways and has an altitude higher than the Yellowhead but lower by almost 400 feet than the Kicking Horse. Yellowhead is 3,729 ft.; Crows Nest, 4,450 ft.; and Kicking Horse, 5,339 ft.

Burns is the first community within the Pass that has an altitude of over 4,000 feet (4,004). A small almost round valley lies west of Burns and was known as Police Flats due to the fact that the post of the C.N.W.M.P. was established there shortly after police arrived at Macleod. Here can be seen deserted coal mining buildings and a row of ruined coke ovens. This was the property of the Leitch Coal Company upon which the town of Passburg formerly depended for its existence.

Crownest Lake is the dividing point of the two different mountain ranges forming the Rocky Mountains. The one to the south forms the Flathead Range while that to the north is called High Rock Ridge. Between the two is the Sleeping Giant (Mt. Phillips).

There are three possible ways through these ranges, one on the Phillips Pass was for many years the Crows Nest Pass but now is known as the old road over the summit.

Captain Thos Blakiston (of the Palliser Expedition) mentioned seeing a trail coming down from the Pass at a point probably between Cowley and Lundbreck and stated "We know only its eastern entrance is on the river of the same name, while it emerges in the vicinity of the steeples or Mount Deception."

Mr. Cousins explains that he was unable to locate Mount Deception, but that the Steeples is a rocky range somewhat like Fernie's Lizard Mountains, situated about half way between Fernie and Cranbrook, some-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
I am enclosing $1.50 to cover subscription for one year to the Coleman Journal.

Sorry we were in Edmonton and Vancouver when your notice arrived and hence the cause for delay. We enjoy receiving the Journal even although many of the old-timers have passed on, still a few are around and we like to hear about them through your paper. Wishing your paper continued success, I am

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. D. B. Young.

Coleman Journal,

Dear Sirs:

Find enclosed the sum of $1.50 being my subscription for the Journal. Sorry that I was not home when the notice came as I had been on a vacation through the States and B.C. where I visited my son Veron at Victoria, then was at the Festival of the Welsh Cymampa at Seattle, then left for Salt Lake City and from there to my daughter Olive's at Columbus, Ohio, where I stayed four weeks, then went to Niagara Falls where I spent two days taking in the lovely sights, then left for Detroit. I visited the Ford Plant and Dearborn Park which were very interesting to those who had not previously had the privilege of doing so. I also stayed two days in Winnipeg where temperatures were 98 to 100, while I was there so left for the north country where I could cool off, but for that I had a wonderful trip. So will conclude by saying that I will see all my old pals around Xmas if all goes well.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS

QUESTION: What is your share of Alberta's Agricultural wealth?

ANSWER: Approximately ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS for each man, woman and child in the province.

AGRICULTURE, our basic industry, brought $758,000,000 to the people in 1951.

That is why your government is so concerned about the proper use and care of the soil and the welfare of the farmers.

Outstanding achievements in the past few years, brought about by the Alberta Department of Agriculture include:

- A ten-fold expansion in the production of forage crops for fodder and seed.
- Assistance in the establishment of municipal seed cleaning plants.
- Determined rod extermination, coyote control and weed control programs.
- A tree planting program with annual plantings of 2,000,000 trees.
- Livestock assistance to farmers for the purchase of purebred bulls now in excess of 5,500; placing of 2,608 bulls, 519 rams, and distribution of 1,200 dairy heifer calves to junior dairy self clubs.
- Assistance to feeder associations which to date have finished a total of 141,481 head of cattle and 407,502 sheep.
- Establishment of Dairy Cattle inspection, instruction and cow testing service to help increase the volume of fluid milk, raise the quality and direct attention to the economy of the industry.

Fashion Show Applauded By Large Attendance

The Couples Club Fashion Show of a week ago Monday won the praise of the many who attended. The show was organized by Coleman people in organizing a show of this type. In addition to publicly displaying the services and apparel available in our own stores, the show highlighted the charm, beauty and grace of some of our own residents. Many of these things the fore had an effect of uncovering a great deal more than funds to swell the sponsors' treasury. The Fashion Show may well be a preview of other functions stressing local talent and services.

The event held in the Italian hall, Oct. 27, was under congenial chairmanship of Percy Dickenson. Background for the show was created by a cheery fireplace from the Excel Builders Supply Co., and hostess chairs and combination radio phonograph from Fathersons. A large display of autumn flowers from Blairmore Greenhouses completed the stage. Gushaus Studios displayed photos and scenes at the east end of the hall. Many housewives were attracted to Paterson's display of automatic work aids including a new automatic Beauty Washer, electric ironer and electric sewing machine. Plastic floor coverings and tile were displayed by Joe D'Appolonia. Bruno's Dry Goods displayed sweaters and shoes and winter wear.

The show was opened with 2 numbers by Mrs. Hill Junior Choir. Gwen Caisse as pianist, Freeman's Dry Goods then displayed their Fall Fashions with Mrs. E. A. Morrison as commentator giving a detailed description of each garment displayed. Chalmers Jewelry supplied matching neck lace, earrings, jewelry and a variety of rings to complement the ensembles. Flowers were donated by Alice Bucka, of Blairmore Greenhouses. A wrist corsage was one of the evening's highlights.

Models for this section included Norma Tappano, Yvonne Erickson, Joy Kroesing, Helen Makowski, Helen Hart, Linda Park, Eileen Sikora and Theresa Evans. Wynell Dunford and Malcolm MacQuarrie were models for the children's clothing.

A musical interlude was enjoyed by the audience at this point, the choir rendering two more selections.

Frances Abousaify's Fall Fashions were presented with Mr. Abousaify describing the materials and styles. Five versatile models who wore many different types of clothing were chosen by Mr. Abousaify, being Imelda Hart, Doris Exall, Marlene Maslin, Doris Gentile, Mrs. V. De Cecco and Doris Antonenko.

Clothing for afternoon and evening, for dinner and dancing, for sport and relaxation were enjoyed by the responsive spectators. This group of models wore their own jewellery. Winter coats in the new poodle cloth created much interest.

Mr. Bob Woods, president of the Couples Club thanked the merchants, the models, choir and audience and all who made the show such a success.

Curlers Elect Officers For 1952-53 Season

Coleman Curling Club elected their 1952-53 officers on Sunday despite a small turnout. This was the second meeting for the association, the first having been postponed due to the small attendance. J. Kilgannon was re-elected to head the organization with C. Roughead vice-president and Duke Kwasnie secretary. The new executive consists of A. DeLuca, J. Malanchuk, G. Poulton and J. Maynard. C. Roughead and J. Malanchuk will remain on the draw committee to get the season underway and a committee will be appointed at a later date.

Considerable time was spent on finances and it was felt that some assistance was necessary. Out of this a motion was recorded that the club request the Ladies Club pay $4. per member to the club. Mens dues will remain the same $6. with rocks or $7. without. Dues may be paid by the payroll deduction plan, through the local bank.

Rocks and their upkeep was another problem discussed. C. Roughead will form a committee to check and repair rocks. No club rocks will be allowed to leave the rink without permission and signing out.

A motion was passed stating that a rink in the regular schedule must consist of four men.

The entrance to the rink must be moved to the east side and the officers empowered to consult a carpenter to do this and any other alterations. It was suggested that a portion of the waiting room be petitioned of as a private room and members be allowed to construct lockers at their own expense.

Council Holds Regular Meeting

Repercussions of changes made necessary by rerouting the highway through Coleman were felt at the council Tuesday, Oct. 28.

J. Kilgannon and Duke Kwasnie, representing the Coleman Council, presented the town as to their intentions regarding a road to the rink and assistance in moving the entrance to the east side. It was felt that moving the tennis courts to their present position crowded the curling club. Council assured the delegation that they had planned a road to the rink and would keep it open in as other years.

Considerable discussion was held regarding assisting the club in moving the entrance and the necessity of building a path around it. Well aware of the fine building the club had erected by volunteer means and wishing to assist in any manner possible, the council felt that the town would not be responsible. City and assistance would tend to set a precedent. It was expressed that the town has been very active in assisting sports grounds and facilities to the benefit of the entire community. A limit is necessary the board felt and the cost paid for by those within the town's area proper while benefits are felt by the entire community.

Further discussion was held regarding the bridge in West Coleman, council being informed that Wm. Kovach had been instrumental in the matter also the town's interest in the bridge. A man was made that the bridge be fixed temporarily to prevent any serious accident during the time it will take to clear the matter up. Caution signs will be erected and a load limit of two tons established.

The Alta. Liquor Commission and the town employees were notified to clean up rubbish as the result of construction at the local Liquor store and the town garage.

A wreath for poppy day was ordered and a gram of $25 given to the institute of the Blind.

In attendance were the mayor and all councillors.

Coalers Find Road Trip Disastrous

By D. Fraser

Cordova Veprava became a hero again when he scored the winning goal in 1:49 in a sudden death overtime with the Calgary Buffaloes. Until the first part of the third period the game looked very promising for Calgary with the score 6-2 when the Coalers made a gallant comeback and scored four goals to tie up the game. The tying goal came from the stick of Peito with just one second of regular game time to go.

Veprava's winning goal was scored when both teams were playing two men short. It was a quick shot around the Calgary defenceman Houghton and a driving shot from just inside the blue line.

Both goal tenders were very busy with Lutynic of the Coalers blocking some 40 shots and Basen of Calgary 30.

Calgary - Goal: Basen; defence, Houghton, D. McGehee, forwards, Scott, Girling, Hughes; subs, Weitzel, Gladay, McMahon, Duke, Brisson, McTeer, B. McGehee, Crawford, Kruse.

Coalers - Goal: Lutynic; defence, R. Hart, Craig, Hart, Gordon, forwards, Pagura, Perrault, Brennan; subs, Spyra, Gazeley, Kemory, Trentlin, Veprava, Krchka, Hart.

Summary

First period: 1. Calgary, McMahon, 5:17; 2. Coalers, Perrault (Pagura), 11:11; Penalties: Hughes, Craig, Richardson, Wart.

Second period: 3. Calgary, Hughes (Hughes), 7:39; 4. Calgary, Hughes, 8:37; 5. Coalers, Trentlin, 10:07; 6. Calgary McMahon, 11:06. Penalties: Hughes, Houghton, 14:19; 11. Coalers Perrault (Trentlin), 18:44; 12. Coalers, Peito (Richardson), 19:50. Penalties: Houghton, Houghlin, McTeer, Hart (misconduct), McGehee, Hart.

Overtime: 13. Coalers, Veprava, 1:49. Penalties: Peito and Houghton (misconduct).

EDMONTON TROUNCES COALERS

Edmonton Oil Kings retained their mastery of the Junior loop by handing the Coalers a 9-3 victory in the tenth meeting Thursday night. Stories out of the capital city indicated the game as a good one and the summary shows only seven penalties handed out, 4 to Edmonton and 3 to Coalers.

Veprava notched three counters, the same with the other markers credited to Pagura and Wifl Perrault.

CALGARY SHOWERS COALERS WITH 11 MARKERS

Calgary Buffaloes showed why they are at the top of the League when they beat the Coalers by a 11-1 score on Friday night. On only two points were the teams even, once at the end of the first period with a score of 1-1 and in the penalty department with 5 sentences going to each team.

Until the first encounter between these teams Buda Buffs did not lose the game in the final stanza after having a commanding lead. Mindful of the many penalties they gathered in the third period of that contact and losing the game, the Coalers got all the stops in the final period to blank the red light seven times. Brennan, a Lethbridge product, notched the singleton for the Coalers.

Coleman Elks Instal Officers

At the conclusion of the impressive ceremony, P.D.D.G.E.R. Bro. A. Wilson was called on to present P.R.R. Bro. Dennis after commanding him on a term of excellent work with his jewel.

To conclude the successful installation ceremonies the Elks and their wives enjoyed a dairy supper put on by the brothers. The evening was spent in popular dances with the Owen's orchestra.

Support The Grands

Coleman Grands have instituted a couple of plans of raising money without going to the public for donations which is prevalent today. This should win the approval of hockey fans locally and inspire the desire to help a truly local team.

Already underway is the Grandie hockey pool. This pool is held in the Toronto Saturday night games and a percentage is taken towards the club funds. This offers a system of supporting your club while taking a chance on increasing your own funds.

The Armistice Day dance scheduled for Nov. 11 in the Italian hall is the second money raising project underway. Your attendance at this will assure the Grands of starting the season with those things so necessary to a club of their calibre.

Let's all help a hockey team that is determined to help itself.

Pass Receives Publicity Boost

The incorporation of Pass publicity in the government's tourist program that has been long awaited has apparently come into being. At a recent meeting of the Blairmore Board of Trade, Ralph R. Moore, deputy minister of economic affairs, explained what the department is doing in regards to erecting industrial signs for Alberta.

The speaker asserted that the department is erecting signs at an average of six a year and one prepared for the Frank Slide is at present being completed in the workshop at Macleod.

The department he added is installing proper picnic tables and benches in suitable locations, but again roads to the locations have to be constructed before the conveniences are installed. One of the units have been slated for Lundbreck Falls this year while another will possibly be installed at another beauty spot in the Pass.

In a new publicity booklet, regarding skiing, besides mentioning Banff and the Sunshine Lodge, the Crows Nest Pass Ski Run has been given ample mention. New ski posters on which the Crows Nest Pass is mentioned have been prepared. 5,000 summer posters mentioning Banff and Jasper and showing a picture of Crows Nest Mountain have been prepared for distribution.

During the evening one of the speakers said that it was not a hopeless task for the Pass to go after an industry. The Pass is rich with phosphate rock, coal, lime and iron ore deposits. He said that there was not enough iron ore to warrant smelting but there is room for a steel mill which possibilities are at present being investigated by several interested parties.

previously.

Mr. Anthony Gallarini, world famous accordionist also present at the meeting. He encouraged everyone present to continue their sincere work in the betterment of music and particularly the piano accordion an instrument that is in need of capable performers. People often think of it only as a party time instrument and not a versatile instrument when in the hands of an artist. Mr. Gallarini's recital was a highlight in the musical history of Calgary and we hope sometime an artist and we hope sometime an artist will perform locally.

Large Funeral Pays Tribute to A. Pietraszko

An exceptionally large number of friends gathered in Blairmore Wednesday morning for the funeral for Anthony Pietraszko, who passed away in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal hospital on Oct. 23.

After leaving Culham's funeral home the procession proceeded to St. Anne's Catholic church where requiem High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father A. Anderson. Prior to entering the church members of the Legion on one side and members of the Blairmore Elks Lodge on the other, formed an avenue into the church through which the pall-bearers carried the flag-draped casket. A firing party under command of Sgt. Morris Drew of Coleman, presented arms as the casket was carried into the church.

On completion of requiem High Mass the cortège proceeded to Coleman Holy Ghost cemetery where the members of the Legion, Elks Lodge and the firing party again formed ranks in honor of their deceased comrade and brother. Following a graveside service conducted by the Very Rev. Dean L. Sullivan of Coleman, Charles Freeman, district deputy past grand exalted ruler of Coleman, conducted an Elks service which was followed by a Legion service spoken by Capt. Jack Pratt of Blairmore. On completion of the services the firing party fired a salute and Pipe Major J. Moore of Coleman, played on the bagpipes and a son J. Moore played the drums. The final tribute was paid to the deceased when William Goodwin of Coleman blew the "Last Post", which was followed by "Flowers of the Forest" played by the Moores, who were dressed in full Scottish regalia.

Pallbearers were Ben Hobson and Angelo Fantin of Blairmore, representing the Blairmore Elks Lodge No. 15. John Macleod and Don Purnell of Blairmore, representing the Blairmore Branch No. 7 of the B.E.S.L., and Eugene Fabro and Morrow Kubica of Coleman, his two personal friends.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all those people, doctors, nurses, nurses aids and friends, who were so kind to my brother, for their expressions of sympathy and for floral tributes. All this kindness will never be forgotten.

ANGUS MORRISON

Angus Morrison, 52, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, district 18 for the past 26 years, passed away on Sunday, Oct. 26 in Holy Cross hospital. Well known throughout the Pass, Mr. Morrison was employed at the local mine.

Born and educated in Sydney, N.S. he came west to Coleman in 1920, moving six years later to Calgary. During his tenure of office he was well known throughout Canada and had been connected with a number of labor activities and arbitrations. In 1946 the coal industry expert sat with the federal royal commission on coal. The commission held sittings in all Canadian provinces and visited most of the coal fields in Canada and many in the U.S.

Surviving are his wife, Mary and two sisters Mrs. Wm. MacLeod and Henrietta Morrison, both in Belmont, Mass.

Funeral services were conducted last Wednesday at Grace Presbyterian church. Rev. Dr. F. Morley officiated. Among the honorary pallbearers were H. Clark of Coleman, Wm. White of Coleman an active pall-bearer.

A TRIBUTE TO ANGUS MORRISON

The Calgary Albertan

Angus Morrison of the United Mine Workers was a man the like of whom Western Canada has seldom seen. His death, long before his time is a shock not only to the eight or nine thousand coal miners in the area, but to his host of friends in every walk of life, in Calgary particularly. He was liked by many, feared by a few and despised by all. He had amazing talents, broad interests and sound judgement. He could have shone as a lawyer, but chose to be a coal miner, a lawyer in the hearings at which he represented his union. As a member of the Royal Commission on Coal he established a national reputation.

He was an intense, vigorous man. He despised sloppy thinking and idle talk. He dealt squarely and expected others to do the same. Numerous reporters who cheated on him once never dared set foot in his office again. But if they were above board, even though hostile, they were admitted to that exclusive and fortunate society of his friends. A half hour with Angus was always spent, both in anticipation and in retrospect. Life has been better for many people for having known him.

COAL OPERATORS FORM NEW ASSOCIATION

A new association has been formed, the Coal Operators' Association of Western Canada, consisting of the members of the two former coal operators association Coleman Collieries is one of the member companies.

Representing the producers of some 6,500,000 tons of coal a year or approximately 80 percent of the total coal produced in Alberta and B.C., the association is headed by Mr. W. D. Dutil. Aimed at safeguarding and promoting the interests of the coal industry in the west, the association is empowered to speak for its members in their relations with trade unions, in dealing with federal and provincial governments and in other pertinent matters effecting the general well being of the industry.

HITLER'S SISTER CAN'T COLLECT FUEHRER'S FUNDS—Adolph Hitler's sister, Paula Hitler-Wolf, 56, nearly penniless and living on public relief, is searching vainly for some one who can prove that her brother is really dead so she can inherit part of the dictator's estate. She has argued for more than four years that she is entitled to a share in the Hitler Nazi properties, which were impounded by the Bavarian government after World War II. No one has produced proof of Hitler's death, or suicide, so she can't collect.

NIAGARA TUNNELS BUILT TO YIELD 1,200,000 HORSEPOWER—1,200,000 horsepower of electric energy will come from Ontario Hydro's Sir Adam Beck-Niagara generating station No. 2 upon completion in 1957. To the right in this artist's sketch is generating station No. 1, at one time the largest hydraulic power plant in the world. The new power development, to the left, is the biggest ever undertaken by a public utility in Canada. Both plants are located on the bank of the turbulent Niagara river, approximately six miles below the famous cataracts.—Central Press Canadian.

This view shows an excavated section of the first of the twin 5 1/2-mile tunnels now being carved under the city of Niagara Falls. A total of 15,000,000 gallons of water per minute will flow through the tunnels to generating station No. 2.—Central Press Canadian.

Latest Portrait Of Queen Elizabeth To Hang In Washington Embassy

The first portrait for which Queen Elizabeth has posed since her accession to the throne of England will be hung in the British embassy in Washington, D.C. Painted by a noted American artist, Douglas Chandor during the past summer, the portrait was commissioned by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and will be presented to the British embassy in Washington after it is exhibited at the Royal Society of Portrait Painters in London. The artist has posed the Queen—whose portrait of a British monarch will be the first to be hung in the Washington embassy since World War I—in front of a mirror in the Yellow Drawing Room in Buckingham Palace so that her silhouette, clad in décolleté, may be seen in the background.—Central Press Canadian.

KEY FIGURE IN CORONATION—A key figure in the ceremonies surrounding the coronation of Queen Elizabeth at Westminster Abbey next summer, the Very Rev. Dr. Alan Campbell Don, dean of Westminster Abbey in London, poses for latest portrait. Following the death of King George VI last February, the 67-year-old Scotman made an appeal to the English people not to demand too much of their new Queen. "Let us give her a chance—a chance of being not only a queen but a woman with a home to enjoy, and a mother with children for whom to care."—Central Press Canadian.

SWITCHES TO REPUBLICAN—Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon is seen in Washington, where he has been re-pudiated Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his Republican party's presidential candidate, and announced that he will vote for Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson. Morse, who has often been at odds with others in his party, said: "Never have I been so completely disillusioned about any man as I am about Eisenhower."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

EASY DOES IT

Bank President said, "We've Something a Bit Better in Mind For Such a Dominant, Aggressive and Competent Man, and Percy Painted."

WHEN Percy told Hortense that the manager of the West Side branch had handed in his resignation that morning, she withered her diminutive husband with a look and barked, "Have you applied for the job?"

Percy tried to shrink further into his pin-striped suit and announced up his nose, soothily, "What's the use, darling? I haven't a chance against Jack Gunn."

"You're a better bank teller than that social lion, Jack Gunn!"

Percy adjusted his goldrimmed glasses, and his tiny moustache twitched, laboring unsuccessfully to add a dashing touch to his appearance.

"You're too quiet and easy-going. You let everybody shove you around!"

"But I try not to, darling." "I keep telling you, you've got to be more aggressive. Just doing your job perfectly is not enough!"

Percy collapsed in his over-stuffed easy chair, and folded his hands on his lap.

"No matter how competent you are, you've got to impress the right people, and go after what you want!" She swung her right fist as though knocking something from in front of her.

"Yes, darling, I know you're right." He felt too uncomfortable and smile, but he did anyway. "But, but I'd be miserable going around and gadabouting like that. I know I was neglecting something important."

"You're too conscientious about your work!" she shouted. "You sit down right now and write a letter to Mr. Hardy and tell him why you're the best man for manager of the West Side branch! You're not too timid to do that, are you?"

"No, darling."

In his mind, he could see Hardy's thick neck turning purple above a stiff white collar, pounding his desk and shouting, "What's the idea, Meek? You can't pick your job here! If you don't like what you're doing, you can quit!" Percy trembled as though he were having a chill.

Forecast Cities Of Twenty To Thirty Thousand In Northern Canada In Next Fifty Years

OTTAWA—Cities of 20,000 to 30,000 and maybe more will spring up in Canada's forbidding northland within this century. That's the prediction of the Defence Department's senior authority on the Arctic. Mining, says English-born Graham Rowley, is the fact that will carry civilization into the Arctic and sub-Arctic in the next 50 years, building cities where now there are only isolated oilfields, mining camps and tiny settlements.

"Not only do I think this will happen," he said in an interview, "but I will be surprised if it doesn't happen."

The opinion comes from a Canadian University graduate who first started going into the Arctic years ago and spent a total of some years there before becoming the Defence Research Board's official responsible for correlating all northland studies from a defence standpoint.

This is the view he set it: Canada hasn't gone as far as Russia. Denmark, developing other countries—the United States, her northland mainly because her small population has been too busy taming the country to the south. Nor has there been any pressure on Canadians to go north to seek land and space because there has been plenty in less bleak places.

The result is that the northland is a potential treasure house which Canadians have just started exploring. But the opening of the north is definitely on. Mining and oil exploration are the keys. One mining development in particular has cropped up either in the Yukon, the Northwest Territories or in the far northern regions of the provinces such as Quebec and Saskatchewan. Explorations are pushing steadily forward.

This is almost certain to lead eventually to cities. The northern climate doesn't hold people back when economic opportunity offers.

Goose Bay, Chimo, Churchill, Whitehorse . . . these and other places which now count their inhabitants in the dozens and hundreds should some day be counting them in the thousands. They are all in what is known as the Arctic.

As for the far Arctic itself, up north of the Arctic Circle, that is another phase, says Graham Rowley. That will take a little longer.

Mr. A. Phillips received word on Saturday of the death of an old friend Arthur Reynolds of Vancouver. He was a resident of Coleman in the early 20's.

Approximately 24 ladies of the Pythian Sisters of Coleman-Hillcrest, and Bellevue attended the district meeting in Medicine Hat, when various parts of the order were exemplified. Mrs. Annie Balky, of Medicine Hat presided, with 146 members registered from Lethbridge, Coaldale Hillcrest Coleman and Medicine Hat Temples.

Hod Pharis' second recording "I Heard the Blue Birds Sing" is now on sale at all leading music stores and may be obtained at Chalmers Jewelery store.

At the Pythian sisters regular October meeting Mrs. Amy Penney was presented with her 25 year service pin, to which Sister Penney gave her thanks and said she hoped to see many more members receiving their 25 year pins. Sister Penney served as Grand Chief of Alberta and Sask., in 1950 and Supreme Deputy in 1951 and 1952.

Mrs. C. B. Brewster, Banff; Frank Sabin and Mr. Shaw of Frisco, Montana, and a Chicago man visited with Ray Bagley last week. The Chicago businessman is in western Canada looking over the supply of Christmas trees.

We wish to make a correction regarding the Pythian Sister and St. Albans Ladies Guild joint party in honor of Mrs. Martland as appeared as appeared last issue. The article should have read, Mrs. Joyce Anderson presented a gift on behalf of St. Albans Guild and Mrs. Kennedy on behalf of the Pythian Sisters.

Mrs. Laura Owens, of Calgary, spent last weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Owen.

Cowboys, ghosts, skeletons, pirates and cowboys paraded the streets of Coleman last Friday as the younger set trooped to the school Halloween party in full costume.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Gardner were the recent guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hott. They left Tuesday for Calgary where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Pharis. Mr. Gardner is stationed with the R. C. A. F. at Winnipeg.
